A SAVING SERVICE

Broken metal parts, practically all of them, are now successfully welded and made as strong and serviceable as new.
Often welding saves not only the cost of a new part but the work of tearing down a machine and the loss of time
which is often the greatest expense.

In the Buyers Guide on the classified page you will find a dependable firm which specializes in this saving service.

Mysteriously Missing

BANNING OF MEN from campus of Smith College at Northampton, Mass., may result from the disappearance of pretty 18-year-old Frances St. John Smith, heiress to large fortune, who apparently stepped from the college grounds into oblivion on Friday, January 18.
Widespread police dragnet failed to find slightest trace of the girl.

Social Welfare Worker Here Recommended By Committee

Richmond is to have a social in the general scheme of proviservice worker to supplement the-work now carried on by the local service clubs, if plans of a committee appointed by Mayor Mattie Chandler, discussed at a meeting last night in Memorial hall are carried to conclusion. Miss Katherine Beesley made a report to the committee, giving the results of her survey of welfare work carried on by local service clubs
and the need for further service work in the community. It was agreed by those present that the city government should take part

New First Baptist Church Building Near Completion

With construction work practically completed, the new First Baptist church at Thirteenth street and Nevin avenue is nearing completion. A corps of workmen are rushing to interior work of the auditorium and accessory departments of the building and the new edifice, the largest in Richmond, will in all probability be opened for services the last part of next month.

The large stained glass window,
depicting Christ in Gethsemane,
which will rise above the platform has arrived and is being installed. On either side of it is the organ loft hidden by a screen.

On either side of the auditorium are four arches with corresponding clearstory windows above. An ornamental beamed ceiling will give a softening contrast to the whole.

Above the balcony of the auditorium will be a stained-glass window of the Boy Christ. In the prayer room will be windows depicting the four gospels.

The advisory committee of the church met at the home of E.
Christensen on Parkside boulevard Tuesday night and made publicity plans for the church.

volving a 16-year-old girl, Dr. C.
Camp, San Pablo pioneer, yesterday sought and was granted a stay of sentence until Saturday morning to permit him to settle his affairs.

Camp is charged with "statutory rape (that form of statutory 18 years) and it lies within the discretion of the court, in case of a plea of guilty, or the jury, if the defendant is convicted to decide whether the guilty person shall go to the county jail or to State's prison for not to exceed 50 years."

When he appeared before Superior Judge A. B. McKenna yesterday and entered his plea he declared:

"I've lived at San Pablo for forty years and every dollar I ever had I divided among the

Five Deaths Is Revival Topic

The topic of Rev. George W.
Forman's revival sermon delivered last night at the Community
Methodist church was "The Five Deaths" taken from the text "The Wages of Sin is Death." The five deaths mentioned by Rev. Forman were "Death of the conscience, death of the character, death of the will power, death to the body and spiritual death. "The Gift of God" said Rev. Forman, "is eternal life."

presented a special musical program, preceding the sermon and Rev. Forman sang a solo at the closing, "Going on to Glory or to

Man Held For Sanity Hearing Tries To Flee From Hospital

MARTINEZ, Jan. 25.—Frank Binelli, who was adjudged
insane by the county lunacy commission this afternoon, made a daring attempt to escape from the county hospital this morning. He was captured twenty minutes later near the hospital.
Binelli, made a desperate dash
for freedom when Deputy Sheriff Charles Gear brought in his breakfast.

Gear had his right hand lacerated in struggling with Binelli to prevent flight. Using a revolver as a club to frighten
the man from his escape attempt stepped in Binelli's pathway as he fled from his cell,
but Binelli grappled with him and then wrenching loose from Gear and an orderly who came to his aid ran from the hospital grounds.

A telephone call to the Sheriff's J. S. Neilson and R. L.
McNamara intercepting the man
at Alhambra avenue and Main street, a mile from the hospital.
He offered only slight resistance.
Binelli was taken into custody
last week by Deputy Sheriff O.
A. Kapell, when the officers encountered him on Pacheco road.
Binelli was later released, but was picked up again Saturday night by Port Costa citizens, who reported that he had frightened
a woman when he went to her home apparently to seek food.

L. A. JUSTICE WITHDRAWS IN HICKMAN CASE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—Trial of William Edward Hickman for the kidnaping and killing of 12-year-old Marion Parker will be resumed—or begun—before an out-of town judge tomorrow morning.
Judge Victor McLucas, presiding judge of the Los Angeles county superior court tonight appointed Superior Judge J. J.
Trabucco of Mariposa county to try the Hickman case. Judge McLucas' action followed a long distance telephone conversation with Chief Justice Waste of the California Supreme court at San Francisco.

Judge Trabucco is now in Los Angeles as a relief judge. He will preside when the Hickman case comes up tomorrow morning in Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy's courtroom.

Judge Hardy, who presided over the trial, instead of the defendant
when the Hickman case opened this morning. A defense affidavit asserted that he was "biased and prejudiced" and unable to give the prisoner a "fair and impartial"
trial.

Attorney Jerome K. Walsh
said that another psychiatrist had entered the case for the defense which is pleading "not guilty
by reason of insanity."

Dr. A. L. Skoog, of Kansas City, examined the prisoner this afternoon, Walsh said. Dr. Skoog, it was stated, is professor of nervous and mental diseases at the University of Kansas.

By JEROME M. STRAUSS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—William Edward Hickman was supposed to go on trial today for the kidnaping and killing of little Marion Parker.

It was Superior Judge Carlos
S. Hardy, however, who found himself the object of attack.

The day opened with prospects of drawing a jury. It closed with this work unbegun, and a judge lacking in addition.

SEEKS JUDGE'S REMOVED

Young Jerome Walsh of Kansas City, chief counsel for Hickman, succeeded in a sudden, unexpected attempt to remove Judge Hardy as the presiding judge at the trial.

Hardly had the morning session
opened when Attorney Walsh presented an affidavit by the defendant, asserting that Judge Hardy was "biased and prejudiced," and incapable of giving him a "fair and impartial" trial.

HARDY WITHDRAWN

Judge Hardy adjourned the proceedings until this afternoon, when court reconvened, he read a statement, denying the accusations, but withdrawing from the case "in the interest of public justice and a speedy trial."

In this impasse recourse was had to the judicial counsel of the state, as provided for in recent amendments to the legal code.
The matter was put up to Chief Justice Waste, chairman ex-officio of the council, asking him to appoint a judge to preside at

Bane Funeral Held Today

Funeral services for J. H. Bane, an old resident of Richmond, who died at the county hospital, will be held from the Wilson and Kratzer chapel this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services will be conducted by Rev. C. G. Lindemann, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church. Surviving the deceased is a niece, living in Florida.

C. C. Kratzer Enters Poultry Raising Field In Richmond

Clark C. Kratzer, automobilldealer, band director, civic worker and large ranch owner in the San Joaquin valley, has not enough of his hands to keep him busy and so he has added chicken raising to his activities.

Kratzer has purchased a place of about an acre at Second and Potrero avenue, east of San Pablo, and is fitting it up with every modern convenience for the raising of chickens and the producing of eggs.

A force of carpenters, under Wally Snelgrove, contractor, are hard at work on the first unit
of a chicken house, which is almost completed, and in a short time, work on a second unit will be started.

Each unit is 175 feet in length and 20 feet in width, and is divided into six pens. Each pen will have a capacity of housing 2500 birds.

In addition to the pens at the west end of the building is a large storage room for feed and implements to be used.

Each pen is fitted up with the latest type of roosts, feed and water troughs and every modern convenience that is now used in this highly developed specialized business.

Running from one end of the building to the other is a trolley by which feed can be taken to the different pens, and can also be used for the carrying out of the refuse from the chicken houses.

The floors are of concrete, and have drainage features, so that they can be kept scrupulously clean with a minimum amount of labor.

When the second unit is completed Kratzer will have a housing capacity for 3,000 hens.

One very important feature of the layout of the different pens is the fact that the latest style trap nests have been installed, so that Kratzer can tell exactly every month, the number of eggs each hen is laying.

BRIDGE RIVALS TO SEEK GRANT

MARTINEZ, Jan. 25.—With an attempt by the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge Inc. to purchase the ferry system of the Richmond San Rafael Ferry company and thus eliminate the ferry concern
as a competitor for a franchise
to bridge the bay between Contra Costa and Marin counties falling of the desired result the two firms were drawing their franchise battle before the Contra Costa board of supervisors on February 7.

Reports that the bridge company has attempted to purchase the ferry system were confirmed locally today, but it was said a price agreement could not be reached and all negotiations have been abandoned. A price difference of approximately $250,000
is said to have developed between the parties to the proposed sale.

While the bids of the two concerns for a franchise are made through individuals, the applications are for the companies and have been filed by their presidents, Roy O. Long of Berkeley and Charles Van Damme of San Rafael, heads of the bridge and ferry firms respectively.

NAVY TO PROBE LEASE OF FIELD TO FOREIGNERS

By WILLIAM F. FLETCHER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Two-thirds of all the gasoline and one-third of all the oil produced in the American Naval Reserves is being purchased by a subsidiary of the Royal Dutch/Shell (British Owned) and their tankers are now loading this petroleum
in our ports for sale abroad. Mark
L. Requa, California, former director of the oil division in the fuel administration during the World War, announced today.

Requa appealed for immediate legislation to prevent this, and the adoption of a sound policy on oil conservation as an emergency measure of national defense. He also made public a letter from 31
of the nation's foremost geologists to President Coolidge urging prompt action.

ASKS LEGISLATION

"The action of Secretary Wilbur
in naming a board to report upon the sale of oil from naval reserve
oil lands to the Royal Dutch/Shell is perhaps the beginning of a national policy looking to the most efficient production, fabrication, distribution and use of our mineral raw materials," Requa
said.

INVOLVES MINERALS

"The problem is much broader than the mere question of oil conservation and includes the question of other minerals as well as petroleum. That there is a necessity for a policy of this kind is best indicated by the document which I had the honor of handing to the president. The republication of the men signing this memorandum removes from the realm of controversial debate the question of the desirability of making an investigation of this type."

"How pressing is the need for this solution is indicated by the

Accidental Death Verdict Of Jury

Coroner jury's report of the death of Manuel Schoenablos 65,
resident of Crockett, found dead
in his home January 17, shows that death resulted from accidental asphyxiation.

Schoenablos had been cooking mash in preparation of moonshine when he lay down on the bed to rest and the flames smothered his life. Five days passed before the body was found. Coroner Aubrey presided over the inquest held in Crockett yesterday.

Grace Brotherhood Holds Dinner Meet

The home-cooked family dinner
given last night by the Brotherhood of the Grace Lutheran church, corner of Thirteenth street and Barrett avenue, was well attended. Centerpieces for the tables were vases filled with pink and white carnations and terms. A musical program was enjoyed during the repast.

After the dinner an unusually interesting program was presented. Mrs. Francis Kent entertained "What Happens in a Ford" and
"The Cake-eater." R. Cutter read
two comical stories.

Those on the committee responsible for the dinner were Mrs.
C. W. Johnson, Mrs. Nettie New-
com and Mrs. M. Baldwin.

WHO'LL WORK WITH HIS HANDS

The schools are turning out an unlimited number of bosses, managers directors, foremen, go-getters, also salesmen, bookkeepers, clerks, etc. Meanwhile there is a shortage of people who will take hold with their hands and do work calling for muscle.

This disparity will probably increase, judging by figures given out by the National Industrial Conference Board, which finds that the number of unskilled workers, who returned to Europe since 1924, is three times as many as those who came thence to the United States. Perhaps many of these people were disappointed when they found they could not pick up gold in our streets.

The man with the hoe and the pick is needed. There is an equal demand for the one who can swing a carpenter's hammer, a bricklayer's trowel, or a house painter's brush. Many who practice these trades are driving shiny automobiles, while clerks and bookkeepers are walking.

Anyone should be glad to shake hands cordially with the man in overalls, and be glad to walk down town with him. The fellow who can mix paint so it will stick or who can fix the chimney so it won't smoke has practical views of life. We can all learn from him.

We should pay high respect to the farmer. As an owner of land, he has a position of substantial dignity. When we give due social honors to such people, more boys will see that these callings are desirable.

Water main bursting in Wall Street offers Norris and LaFollette an opening for senatorial investigation of watered securities.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler says that thinking is a lost art. It might also be said that the people are voting as they think.

The League of Nations met and adjourned without doing anything. There's a tip for a lot of our state legislatures.

We don't know anything about it but we'd be willing to bet that Uncle Sam wouldn't be able to slip any American propaganda into the histories used in the British schools. You have to give John Bull credit for looking after his own.

American women are now the best dressed in the world, according to a French style expert. What does he mean, dressed?

Political ambition, which is a fatal affliction in Mexico, rarely results in anything worse than poverty in old age in this country.

How To Earn Money at Home.

By Sara Spence

When you make something, dear friends, especially when you knit or sew, remember to try combinations of your materials. Don't make a dress, for example, entirely of one color or material. One of the most attractive combinations to your mind is that of silk and wool. In sweaters for children or grown-ups, in knitted suits and dainty little things for baby—everything, you will find, is made softer and more harmonious by the addition of silk and wool. Woolen dresses are trimmed with a contrasting or harmonizing band of silk. Scarfs have a deep band of silk at the end. You know these fashion notes as well as I, but do you use them when you are making up articles to sell? If you do, it will help your sales.

It is requested that you furnish me, if possible, with the location of some firm that gives out sewing as an inducement for purchasing an electric sewing machine. I am an experienced operator.—A. H.

You will find the firms that sell electric sewing machines listed in the telephone book. I advise you to go very slowly on propositions of this sort, as I understand they do not give a contract for the work, and the inducement always remains just that.

No One Style Is Popular In Spring Expert Declares

"Women need not complain of standardization if they follow the fashions for spring, instead of their neighbors," declares Anne Rittenhouse, writing in February McCall's. She says:

"Four accepted necklines are shown. No giraffe is like the other. The arm treatment differs. The cut of the skirt, their hang and set, give enough variation to suit varying kinds of figures. The materials are: georgettes, plain and printed, figured wool crepe, taffeta, which the dressmakers do not discard, and crepe satin.

"The uneven hemline of the evening mode is now also extended to afternoon and street wear, while the sport frock adopts a generous amount of plaits.

"No doubt France does not intend to stick to simplicity. All strains point to the middle course between severity and frivolity. There's a strong intention observable to get back into the Victorian slimness of the bodice, which the most prudish queen in history accentuated. Paris keeps the top part in the frock more severe than its skirt. You see that for yourself in these gowns which follow the new French ideas. The sleeve, on the contrary, fits the arm like a glove. Ribbons come and go. Usually they are not part of a tailored woman's apparel. But today, when clothes are getting coquettish, they take their old position."

Some of the new two-piece dresses have hip-length blouses in coat effect. A nobby frock of English tweed has its jacket-blouse outlined with black and white striped banding. The blouse is collarless and has one pocket at the right side.

Buttons are black—with reservations. Paris is using them to trim many of her newest frocks, but often leaves them off coats, where they are really needed.

The Rio Rita choker is extremely popular. One particular lovely model is made of large rose quartz beads, alternating with smaller beads of blue chalcidony. A large plaque of antique silver, effectively carved, forms the front clasp.

How much liberty and the companionship of other men can a girl enjoy who is deeply in love with a man?

I wish girls who are in love or have been in love and yet like the companionship of other men would take me into their confidence and tell me just how they feel about it.

We like some of our friends because they are understanding, and if we feel in the mood for sympathy or advice we turn to them. A woman's men friends are almost the same as friends of the same sex. They find certain friendships stimulating and love, the love that leads to marriage and the founding of companionship at all.

"My friend is so jealous," writes Edith W. to me, "I love him more than life itself, and yet I can't bear to spend the five nights I can't see him all alone. He lives in another city and can only see me week-ends. I have a great many men friends, as I work where most of the employees are men. I see no harm whatever in going to the theatre or the movies or some where to dance, since all these boys want is company and a good time and love doesn't enter into it. I do and still see other men."

How can she? Or rather, can she do it? When two people are in love it would seem that there should be such complete understanding that the thing that one does and does not coincide with what the other might do could be accepted. Accepted without question, for if they trust one another they can't doubt the motives that prompt their actions.

Paris sends a rakish little Russian bonnet of smooth flat felt with incrustations of fancy straw in a matching tone and finished off at each side with burnt peacock curls.

Hands of black valenciennes lace add a delightful feminine touch to a pair of peach colored silk sleeping pajamas. The lace outlines the X-neck, the wide armholes and blouse hem and appears in the form of ruffles at the ankle.

It may be too soon to wear it, but it isn't too soon to talk about it—the new wooden bathing jewelry. It appears in the form of chokers, necklaces and bracelets. These are made of flat, round, oval or square wooden beads in variegated colorings with an iridescent, frosted finish. Sometimes the colors are done in marbled effect.

Some of the new two-piece dresses have hip-length blouses in coat effect. A nobby frock of English tweed has its jacket-blouse outlined with black and white striped banding. The blouse is collarless and has one pocket at the right side.

Buttons are black—with reservations. Paris is using them to trim many of her newest frocks, but often leaves them off coats, where they are really needed.

The Rio Rita choker is extremely popular. One particular lovely model is made of large rose quartz beads, alternating with smaller beads of blue chalcidony. A large plaque of antique silver, effectively carved, forms the front clasp.

GOOD MANNERS

Q. How should butter be served at a formal dinner? Are bread and butter plates preferable to individual butter dishes?

A. At a strictly formal dinner butter is rarely served. On other occasions it is placed on a bread and butter plate with a small silver knife placed upon it for spreading. Individual butter plates are used in restaurants, but the individual bread and butter plate is used in the home.

Q. I am a great lover of music and make many sacrifices in order to attend musicals, etc., spending money that I can ill afford. On many occasions I have had my evening spoiled by thoughtlessly noisy persons who sit near me. Is there any way in which I may ask them to be quiet without offending them and making myself appear ridiculous?

A. Sometimes a disapproving or appealing look will suffice. Then again a thoughtlessly noisy person may be reminded of his duty to others by a slight hushing sound, made very gently. When this hint fails, it is permissible to lean toward the offender and say in a polite tone:

"I am going to ask you as a favor not to talk while the pianist is playing." If the request for silence is offered politely and gently, there are few who will refuse.

BEWARE OF MARRIED MEN BY ARLINE DEHAAS

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures Inc. "BEWARE OF MARRIED MEN," starring Irene Rich, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Through a series of misunderstandings, three people, Myra and Helene Martin, and Leonard Gilbert, a divorce lawyer and Myra's fiancé, are forced to hide, unbeknownst to each other, in the apartment of Huntley Sheldon, whose wife, Nita, is divorcing him. Nita is jealously searching the apartment for a correspondent. Helene and Myra find each other and make their escape to the street, where Helene realizes that she has left her handbag at Sheldon's. Meanwhile, Gilbert, who had come to discuss alimony with Sheldon, is discovered and, as his position is somewhat unenviable, being Nita's lawyer, he declares that he was hunting evidence for his client.

Sheldon stared in amazement. How under the shining sun had Myra got downstairs, and why on earth was she coming back when she knew what was happening. And here was his wife calling her a nice, delightful person. What did it all mean? The middle was becoming too thick for him.

Sheldon, too, was wondering why Myra had come, but he knew that he had told her that he was going to Sheldon's and it might have been that something had happened at the office. Her visit held no deep significance, save that it was a trifle unusual.

"She must be a great help to you," Mrs. Sheldon was talking about Myra, trying to wedge herself into a conversation that might make everyone forget the events of the past quarter of an hour. "She's always so kind and thoughtful—and she seems so thoroughly efficient."

"Yes, I think so, but it's very kind of you to say that, Mrs. Sheldon," Gilbert bowed. "You know, I happen to be engaged to her."

"O, no, really?" Mrs. Sheldon beamed. "Isn't that too wonderful. And how romantic! Falling in love with one's secretary."

"Well, I've known Miss Martin longer than that. It wasn't just a business flirtation. I handled all her mother's affairs, before she died," Gilbert explained.

"I'm so glad you told me," Mrs. Sheldon enthused. "May I congratulate you—and may I tell her I know all about it?"

"Why, of course—it's no secret." The buzzer announced the arrival of Sheldon and he opened the door. There stood Helene and Myra, both looking very calm and very untroubled.

"I'm Miss Martin, Mr. Gilbert's secretary," Myra launched quickly into words, trying to give Sheldon his cue.

"O, yes, won't you come in?" He picked up his lines flawlessly, but he was taken by surprise at seeing both sisters there. But, then, he had given up being surprised at anything that happened on this strange and mystifying afternoon.

Myra walked over to Gilbert holding out a brief case. "I brought this in to you," she handed him his case. "You shouldn't be so careless with important papers."

"My dear, Mr. Gilbert's just told me," Mrs. Sheldon was gushing over Myra, before anyone had a chance to speak.

"He's just told you?" Myra repeated, puzzled.

"Yes, about your engagement, and I think it's lovely."

"O, yes, of course. Thank you, Mrs. Sheldon. May I present my sister, Mrs. Naylor. Mrs. Sheldon and Mr. Sheldon. Myra brought Helene forward, and Mrs. Sheldon bowed cordially.

Once more Sheldon scratched his head uncertainly. "Mrs. Naylor—that was funny. He hadn't known Helene was married. Perhaps, after all, some one had made a fool of him. He couldn't be quite certain who it was, but he felt that he had been just a little dumb, to say the least. But he bowed and shook hands cordially with Helene.

"Won't you sit down," Mrs. Sheldon invited, taking hold of the situation in her usual authoritative way.

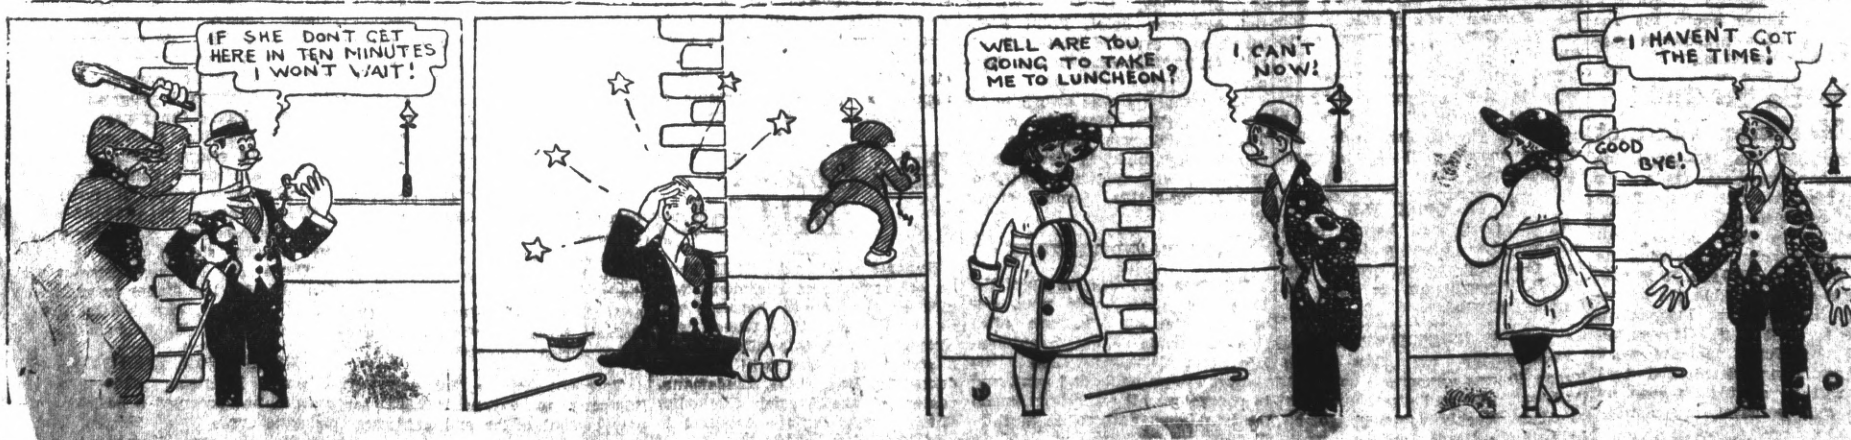

"O, we must be going," Myra thanked her, but she edged her way toward the chair where Helene had said she had thrown her purse and gloves. "You see, Mr. Gilbert," she explained, "Mrs. Sheldon called at the office just a few moments after you left, and explained that she wanted to see you on very important business. I didn't like to say where you had gone—you can understand why, Mrs. Sheldon, I'm sure."

"O, of course, my dear, you did perfectly right," Mrs. Sheldon positively beamed, glancing at her husband archly.

Myra's hand was groping along the back of the chair with studied carelessness. "And I thought that as long as the matter seemed so urgent," Myra was explaining, "I'd just take my car and come by here and tell you." Helene had come into the office, and I told her they might come along. She's my younger sister, you know." Myra turned to Mrs. Sheldon, playing for time until she could locate the object of her search.

"But where did you find her?" Gilbert asked.

'HER WILD OAT' IS ATTRACTION AT CALIFORNIA

Colleen Moore's "Wild Oat" reaped a harvest of laughter at the California Theatre, when it opened yesterday, for a two day run.
"Her Wild Oat" is the story of a little lunch wagon waitress who crashes society's most heavily guarded portals.
With a clever and well balanced cast surrounding her, Miss Moore delights with her portrayal of the little miss who decides she might just as well be dining at the Ritz as serving coffee and doughnuts in the little Times Square lunch wagon. The story is told in a convincing manner and interest is maintained through the final scene.
Miss Moore has won her popularity as a screen actress by her consistent work in stories that are well suited to her personality, and "Her Wild Oat" is no exception to this rule. It is screen entertainment plus, and brings Miss Moore to the silver sheet in an utterly happy, rollicking character-ization.
Larry Kent, a promising young member of the First National Contract players, has the chief supporting male role and is very happily cast.
The work of Hallam Cooley, as the little waitress' newspaper reporter friend and advisor, is particularly good. Given Lee, Fritz Kidway and many others appear to good advantage.
Gerald Duffy wrote the screen story which was superbly directed by Marshall Neilan.
"Her Wild Oat" presents Colleen Moore at her best, and is another success to the credit of this talented young lady.
Other features on the same program include "Big Brother," an "Our Gang" comedy; current news events; and Larry Canelo, at the organ.

Chicago Sought For Smith Girl

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Possibility that Frances St. John Smith, missing Smith college girl, may be in Chicago was further augmented today, with the statement of William Allen Marshall, Field and Company salesman, that he had directed the girl to a woman's hotel last Saturday.
This statement merely adds to the general belief that the girl has journeyed from the East to the Mid-West.
Police, however, acting on the information of the girl, failed to discover any evidence that Miss Smith had spent the night at any of the women's boarding houses in the district to which she was directed.
Another woman, whose name was withheld by the police stated that she had seen Miss Smith on an elevated train bound for Evanston.
Whether or not the girl intended to visit the Sorority houses at Northwestern University, could not be learned.

MILTON SILLS STAR OF FILM AT RICHMOND

Milton Sills is in town, in his best starring vehicle to date! "Hard-Boiled Haggerty," which Wild Gunning produced for First National Pictures and Charles Brabin directed, presents the star in an unusual and powerful characterization at the Richmond Theatre.
Starting with a leap into rapid-fire thrills, as the star downs his fifth German plane above the lines and becomes a World War flying ace, "Hard-Boiled Haggerty" builds rapidly in interest to high points of drama, mystery and suspense.
The backbone of the production, however, is a new type of love story vitally interwoven with the stirring action. Molly O'Day plays opposite Sills, in a very strong role. Her characterization and action, are laden with enjoyable comedy, and a great deal of comedy as well as tense drama is evolved around the stars' character.
"Hard-Boiled Haggerty" is based on Elliot White Springs' magazine story "Delayed Evidence," that Carey Wilson adapted for Sills' use on the screen. Prominent in the supporting cast are Arthur Stone, Mitchell Lewis, George Fawcett and Yola d'Avril.
Other film features include "Wise Guys Prefer Brunettes," a comedy scream; and current news events.
Coming Friday and Saturday, "Two Arabian Knights," with a thousand and one laughs.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said:
"One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking Nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."
Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

PERSHING ASKS FOR SHIP AID

(By Universal Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 25.—In a ringing plea for development of inland waterways and a merchant marine, General John J. Pershing told the Chamber of Commerce here today that only fear compelled the Allies to furnish necessary shipping for the United States during the World War.

"Because our Merchant Marine had practically disappeared from the seas, we were left almost in despair, and our armies for lack of sea transportation were all but fatally delayed in arriving on the Western front," he declared.

"Only fear, self-interest and vital necessity compelled the Allies to provide the additional shipping necessary to transport abroad the two million Americans, who barely arrived in time to prevent Allied defeat. I would earnestly implore our people not to forget that lesson."

General Pershing said that the government, and not private interests should develop the inland waterway systems. A line should be established on the Missouri, he said, so that freight could move from there to Gulf ports, and a deep water route should be established from the Lakes to the Atlantic American cargo carriers should be provided to transport the freight overseas as foreign shipping can not be relied upon to do so, he added.

Laundry Workers Hear Address By National Leader

It is claimed that when he started work in a laundry $5 a week and board was considered good pay for fourteen hours a day. Now conditions are such that $10.50 a week is the minimum wage scale and an eight hour day is observed in all white laundries.

Woman And Child Escape Injuries In Auto Crash

Danger Of Freeing Hickman On Insanity Charge Told

By EDGAR RICE BURROWS

(By Universal Service)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25.—The first session of the Hickman trial was reminiscent of the Dundee-Ruddick affair and an opening of a Grauman theatre. It resembled Mr. Ruddick's case against Mr. Dundee in that nothing much happened, while the "feeling and chandeliers" in the new courtroom showed the Graumanian influence on modern interior decoration.

The crowd was there, too—Most of it on Temple street across the way from the Hall of Justice. Just what it expected to see or hear from this strategic point of vantage is not entirely clear, but at least about the only important thing it missed was the reunion of the writer's club that opened in Judge Hardy's courtroom at 9:30 in the morning.

Judging from this initial session of the hearing of the case of the people against William Edward Hickman it is obvious that justice must triumph. All the necessary components that enter into the orderly processes of modern criminal procedure were there—a presiding judge, four attorneys, a visiting judge, a court reporter, a clerk, several bailiffs and one hundred representatives of the press.

Oh, yes, we had a defendant also, but he is of minor importance. As a matter of fact I did not know he was there until after I had left the courtroom.

Walsh's defense of his client is, of course, that of insanity. I have read that he has argued that to hang Hickman would be to indict every normal American boy, whereas was Hickman to be adjudged insane the heinousness of his abominable crime would become understandable and excusable upon the grounds of irresponsibility.

But no one should compare Hickman to any normal American boy and it is libelous to suggest that he is any way representative of American youth because Hickman is not normal.

But abnormality does not by any means imply insanity. Hickman is a moral imbecile and moral imbecility is not insanity. The moral imbecile is as well able to differentiate between right and between wrong as is any normal man. The difference between the two lies in the fact that the moral imbecile does not care what the results may be to others so long as he may gratify his abnormal egotism or his perverted inclinations.

What if Walsh is successful in his efforts to prove that Hickman was insane when he kidnapped Marion Parker, that he was insane when he murdered her, that he was insane when he cut her little body apart?—He may succeed in doing so, at that when one stops to reflect upon the vagueness of the line of demarcation between human responsibility and the lack of it as viewed from one angle, by Allenists for the defense of the prisoner and, from an opposite angle by Allenists for the prosecution.

What will happen, then, or what may happen? Under our California law Hickman might, at the end of one year, demand another investigation as to his sanity and if found to be then sane the authorities would be compelled to free him.

If we hang him we have removed an immediate menace to our peace and happiness, and safety and a potential menace to the peace and happiness and safety of countless future generations, for moral imbeciles breed moral imbeciles, criminals breed criminals, murderers breed murderers just as St. Bernards breed St. Bernards and thoroughbreds breed thoroughbreds.

Yes, I think we are going to have a great trial if it ever gets started. There were a bunch of celebrities occupying ringside seats and society was well represented inside the rail.

It is strange what will attract our best people.

Rear Admiral F. H. Drumby was relieved from command of the salvage operations on the sunken submarine S-4 so that he could resume command of the control force on the scouting fleet and depart for winter maneuvers in Cuban waters, the Navy Department announced.

"My skin was a sight"

"I couldn't look people in the face, I was so ashamed of my skin! It was always blotched with pimples and blackheads and at times itched terribly. I had tried everything and was so discouraged that I couldn't bring myself to take hope in anything. You can imagine my surprise therefore when one application of Rowley's Mentho Sulphur almost completely cleared my skin. I could have danced with joy! In a short time you wouldn't know my skin—it was so clear, so soft and white."

"Thousands of people are discovering that there is a remedy for skin trouble—even fiery, itching eczema! It's the magical combination of sulphur and menthol—sulphur for clearing the skin, menthol for healing the broken and irritated tissue. Rowley's Mentho Sulphur is inexpensive and all druggists supply it in large ready to use. Be sure it's Rowley's."

Milk Dealers Ask Higher Tariff

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Congress was urged to enact a special emergency tariff bill raising the duties on dairy products and their competitive products by the National Cooperative Milk Producers' Federation today.

A resolution adopted by the executive committee set out that from 50 to 62 per cent of American imports are agricultural products and that existing duties are much lower than on manufactured products.

The Association also asked Congress to impose an excise tax on Philippine agricultural products which compete with American products.

THREE CAGE GAMES TO BE STAGED HERE

By H. A. M.

Three cage games are in store for Richmond basketball fans tomorrow night at the Roosevelt Junior high school gym, according to W. L. "Doc" Seawright.

At 7:30 the Mechanic Bankers will meet the Stringer Smoke House gang.

At 8:30 the Richmond Y. L. I. girls will play the Berkeley Y. L. I.

At 9:30 the LaMoine Druggists will gamble around with Ben Malik's Style Leaders.

There is little doubt in our minds but that Mechanic Bankers will lose tomorrow night by some score or other. This, we think, is a safe prediction for a ham sport writer to make. So far this season the number of games won by the Bankers could be placed in one eye and you'd never know the difference.

The Stringer team is the team that seven or eight other quintets have been trying to beat. "Trying" is a good word to use in this place.

The girls game should prove interesting. This is the first game of the Y. L. I. league to be played here. A lot of credit should be given the local cager-taken in at the gates.

Jennings O.O.'s and K.O.'s

By JAMES W. JENNINGS

Your correspondent evidently was in error when he gave Battling Levinsky, former light heavyweight champion, a mere fifty-six bouts in one year as the record number of matches fought within twelve months, since the following missive from Al Lippe adds three to the total and, in addition, gives some sidelights on the globe-gridding career of Jeff Smith.

The next voice you will hear will be that of Al Lippe, speaking over our Maue network from (pretty word). They started the season like the Mechanic Bankers, but oh boy how they started to tell other teams lately what is what. In the last three games the local girls have slaughtered, killed and other wise mutilated three perfectly good teams.

The Druggists and Style Leader game should be one of the best of the evening. Both teams are playing first class basketball this season and a good, clean, fast game should be on the bills tonight.

No extra charge will be made for these games. Seawright announced. The usual time will be should be given the local cager-taken in at the gates.

Station WAKE, in Philadelphia.

"Your article about Battling Levinsky taking part in fifty-six bouts, wish to state that you made a slight error. Levinsky took part in fifty-nine bouts.

"If you see fit at any time to publish them I can give you the dates and opponents.

"They were all the way from six-round bouts to twenty-round bouts.

"You know, I was also the manager of Jeff Smith and had him for seventeen years. I do think that Jeff Smith had more fights in his career than any boxer that ever lived.

"I also think that Jeff Smith holds a record which has never been accomplished by any one else.

"He fought three twenty-round fights in two weeks, and all went the distance.

But He Never Rode a Ferry

"I also think Jeff Smith holds another record—that is, he traveled and fought in every prominent city in the United States; also fought in Ireland, Scotland, Spain, Italy, Belgium; he also gave exhibitions in Russia, (Moscow, Warsaw and St. Petersburg).

Jack Delaney is the only fighter who agreed to box Levinsky, and he will not be ready for the Battler until some time in February."

Hickman's trial, Chief Justice Waste, who is at San Francisco, was consulted over the long-distance telephone.

DEFENSE SCORES DELAY

Attorney Walsh, in presenting the affidavit questioning Hardy's qualifications, declared that the defense had no intention of seeking to delay the trial. However, it is known that the defense is not averse to gaining time, and it made a creditable showing on that score today.

The morning session lasted less than an hour. The afternoon session cleared in less than ten minutes, adjournment being taken until tomorrow morning.

William Edward Hickman was all but submerged in the legal proceedings. The 11m light seemed to beat upon him less strongly as he sat in open court, a guard beside him and his three attorneys in front.

HICKMAN HURED

Hickman, wearing a dark suit, was not a dramatic object. He seemed rather bored with the proceedings, and evinced no interest in the spectators massed behind him, never once looking in their direction.

Only one relative of the prisoner was noticed in the courtroom. This was Alfred Hickman, a brother who accompanied his mother here from Kansas City for the trial. Alfred Hickman sat in front of the dividing rail, out of conversational range of the prisoner.

CURIOUS CROWDS

Curious crowds thronged the street at the entrance to the Hall of Justice, but there was no disorder. On the eighth floor of the building, where Judge Hardy's court is located, hundred more milled in the corridors, both in the morning and the afternoon.

Board barricades and numerous guards kept the crowds from entering the courtroom. Few members of the public managed to make their way inside. So heavy was the demand for press seats, that the court was unable to accommodate all the press.

Hickman was spared the necessity of running the gauntlet of the curious. He was taken to and from the courtroom by a rear passageway which connects with the county jail, which occupies the upper floors of the hall of justice.

NOT IMPRESSIVE

The youth who confessed to kidnapping, killing and dismembering 12-year-old Marion Parker is not an impressive personality. He appeared slight and rather undersized. His face had a somewhat pasty appearance, perhaps the result of his confinement in the county jail.

QUESTION OF SANITY

Hickman's plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity" leaves the question of his mental condition the sole issue of the trial. It is generally believed that the proceeding will take about two weeks, once the case is actually under way.

Driver Welcomed

Quail Favored As State Bird

What will be California's state bird? That is the question asked by Prof. Joseph Grinnell of the University of California of the 112 Sportsmen's clubs throughout the state comprising a membership of more than 80,000 members.

California mountain quail was the answer received by the professor. Richmond Sportsmen's club was over enthusiastic for the quail, as were the other clubs. If the decision reached by these organizations are to stand as official the quail will be the bird of California, will adopt as its official representative in the bird kingdom.

Miss Yvonne Chacelet, president presided. Miss Chacelet reviewed the work of the four different departments of the league and appointed each member as a worker in one of the departments. Other matters pertaining to the league work were also discussed.

Miss Mildred Mulcare will be the leader at the next meeting which will be held Sunday night beginning at 6:30 o'clock. The league will also hold a cabinet meeting, or a meeting of the heads of the different departments, Monday evening, January 30, at the church.

City Planning Commission To Hear Requests

Application for change in the city zoning plans will be heard at a meeting of the City Planning Commission Monday night when S. Toyoto and Alvia La Marr make applications for the construction of buildings in districts now excluded to the types which they wish to erect. S. Toyoto wishes to construct a laundry on Fifteenth between Macdonald and Nevin avenues which is now restricted to commercial plants. Alvia La Marr seeks permission for construction of the S. H. Kress store at Tenth street south of Macdonald. The work cannot proceed until permission is secured from the commission as that district is exclusively residential.

AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

4000 COPIES
of Fong Wan's new book on Herbs Ready for Distribution

Never before has a Chinese Herbalist written a book in English. The revised edition of "Fong Wan's Herbs" is just off the press, contains numerous articles on Chinese Herbs, Remedies, Theories and Methods of Treating Various Ailments, all written by Fong Wan himself. The contents of this book are very different from those of books composed by advertis-ing agencies or by employed au-thors. The herbists who publish such books are not even able to read what the books contain.

Fong Wan's book is designed to set forth clearly the nature and preparation of herbs, to show how these wonderful gifts of Mother Nature are used, in accordance with the ancient Chinese theories to combat disease in its various forms. The book also contains approximately 200 testimonials, given chiefly by East-ern people who have been freed from suffering by drinking the Fong Wan Herbs.

One copy may be obtained free by each family called for at the Fong Wan Office, or a copy will be mailed to any address upon request and receipt of 10 cents in stamps.

fact that at the present time one-third of the oil from our naval reserves, and two-thirds of the gasoline, is now being purchased by a subsidiary of the Royal Dutch Shell, and that naval tankers belonging to the navy of a foreign power have been, and perhaps are today, loading petroleum taken from naval reserves. In other words, petroleum that should be reserved for the U. S. Navy has been going to foreign powers. These conditions are made possible by our neglect to formulate and enact a policy as related to mineral raw materials that should be done with least delay and that should become as definite and fixed a national policy as is the Monroe Doctrine.

TO BLOCK NAVY

The government will take any steps necessary to support that navy department in halting the depredations of the Shell Petroleum interests (British Owned) on the California and other American oil reserves. It was learned at the State Department today.

The emphatic statement was made that the United States will not permit exploitation of oil reserves by any country which does not permit free development of their petroleum resources by American interests. The British do not extend this measure of reciprocity, it was stated, although the Shell interests are actual producers in the United States, as well as elsewhere.

CURE PRODUCTION

That the State Department will endeavor to curb the production in the fields controlled by the Royal Dutch Shell, or subsidiary companies officials were not prepared to state at this time. But it was made plain that the British concerns would be stopped from buying oil produced in American reserves and selling it abroad, thus depleting American resources while they conserve their own.

The Shell interests have for years been extensive producers of petroleum in American fields and their activities have long been a subject of diplomatic exchanges. This was cited by the United States immediately after the World War, when the British refused to permit the United States petroleum interests to operate in countries over which the British secured control or mandate.

The British still refuse to permit American exploitation in these foreign fields, but continue to operate the Shell fields here on the ground that they are rights legally acquired. However, the purchase of oil from the American reserves, particularly those reserved to fuel the navy in the event of an emergency, is regarded as a protest on an entirely different basis. It was pointed out that in this way the British could purchase oil here to supply their demand and keep just that much more of their own oil in the cost of living declined throughout the country in the last year, the reduction ranging from half of one per cent. In New York to 4.6 per cent. In Jacksonville, the Labor Department announced today.

The average for all cities listed was 2.1 per cent.

Percentage reductions by cities were:

Baltimore, 2.3; Boston, 1.4; Buffalo, 1.9; Chicago, 2.6; Cleveland, 1.4; Detroit, 2.8; Houston, 1.6; Jacksonville, 4.6; Los Angeles, 9; Mobile, 1.5; New York, 5; Philadelphia, 2.2; Portland, Ore., 1.5; San Francisco, .6; Seattle, 1.3; Washington, 3.1; Atlanta, 2.6; Birmingham, 7.8; Denver, 3.2; Indianapolis, 2.5; Kansas City, 2.7; Memphis, 2.2; Minneapolis, 2.4; New Orleans, 1.5; Pittsburgh, 1.9; Richmond, Va., 2.4; St. Louis, 2.5.

Increases in cost of living from December, 1914 to December, 1927, ranged from 52.8 per cent. in Portland, Ore., to 80.1 per cent. in Buffalo.

T. N. T. CLUB HOLDS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The T. N. T. Club, comprised of the women employees of Albert's Inc., held the initial meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Clara Mathews on Pennsylvania avenue. Three new members, Mrs. Fern Carlson, Mrs. Carrie Hollenbaugh and Miss Mary Aguirre, were received into the club. New by-laws were drawn up by the club. An election of officers was held and Mrs. Carrie Brillhart was elected president; Miss Frances Camero, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Enid Robinson, publicity chairman.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

A special investigating committee of naval officials appointed by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur yesterday to study means of preventing the Honolulu Petroleum Co., an American concern, from selling oil taken from naval reserves, under lease to them, to the Shell company, began work today and is expected to recommend enactment of legislation immediately.

It was discovered that the Honolulu company was thus disposing of navy reserve fuel, in connection with the open warfare between the Standard and the Dutch Shell over foreign oil rights, that precipitated the controversy and prompted the navy department to act.

It is a foregone conclusion, officials stated, that the British would register an immediate protest with the State Department, in an effort to halt legislation and that there will be a long series of exchanges.

Bank Of Italy Earnings In 1927 Reach $32, 000, 000

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Increase in the capital investment of Bancitaly Corporation from $115,000,000 to $250,000,000 during the period from February 8, 1927, to January 20, 1928, was the outstanding feature in the current statement made public late today following the organization's annual meeting. Net earnings for this same period, after deducting $5,997,349 reserved for taxes, contingencies, and including $15,000,000 for the Glanini Foundation of Agricultural Economics at the University of California, amounted to $32,917,823. The growth of the investment in securities reflects the gain in the capital account.

The present security holdings total $252,430,801— as compared with $93,000,000 shown in the February statement of last year. The suggestion that all stockholders liquidate existing brokers' loans or borrowing from commercial banks and financial organizations, thus becoming immune to market fluctuations, was made by A. P. Glanini, president of the Bancitaly Corporation, prior to his departure for the east.

"All of our stockholders have fared very well in the matter of profits and I would like to see them 'clean up' their loans and place themselves in the strongest possible market position," Mr. Glanini declared. "It might be necessary for some of them to sell a portion of their holdings—at a profit—in order to do this but I believe it would be a sound move on their part. We want them to own their stock outright. We are now setting out to make our stock one of the strongest in the country and do not want it held as security for loans, by brokers, or competing banks. We want our stockholders so firmly entrenched that they cannot be forced to sell at some unfavorable time."

Mr. Glanini said that while he did not anticipate the development of a situation that would necessarily lead to a sharp reaction from present prices, at the same time he believed that stockholders should use the present market to take up the slack.

"We have always found the old saying, 'in times of peace prepare for war,' a pretty good one to follow," Mr. Glanini concluded.

At the annual meeting, W. H. Snyder was elected a director to succeed James J. Fagan, resigned. All other directors were re-elected.

Stern faced, Judge McKenzie responded that the court would consider the plea, but said that "in view of the nature of the crime charged I can see but little hope for your request."

Dr. Camp appeared in court without counsel, Deputy District Attorney James F. Hoey represented the state.
